MOVING AHEAD WITH FAITH, HOPE AND LOVE

- PASTOR TIMOTHY CHOW -

The early church faced many rapid changes and had to continue to struggle to adapt to a new and frightening world. They had to apply the faith of the disciples to a world which wanted Christians dead. In a few centuries they had to take this faith into a world where the church was, for all intents and purposes, part of the official power structure.

Our situation today is very different. We can no longer assume that our friends, neighbours and relatives place any value on the church, either the building or the faith community. We have to cope with the small numbers that wish to continue the journey as disciples.

We also have to remember that few as we are, we have a mission to those who are outside of the church and those who are outside of society.
